At Roanoke College

Abernathy doing well

When the Roanoke College Maroons enter the NCAA Divison III quarterfinals this weekend, and Appomattox native, Shane Abernathy, will be contributing to the effort.

Abernathy, a 1981 graduate of ACHS, is playing forward and center this year for the Maroons, as a freshman.

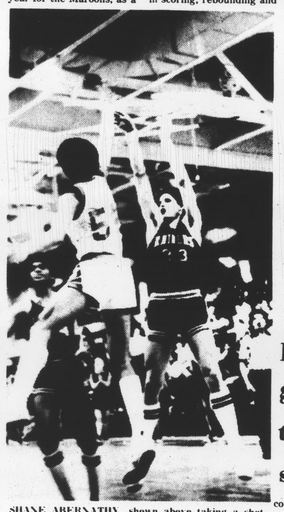
The 6' 7", 205-pound Abernathy played four years of varsity basketball at Appomattox. He started from the middle of his sophomore year on, and became a team leader in his junior and senior years at ACHS, leading the team in scoring, rebounding and blocked shots those last two years. His senior year was his personal best in high school, when he averaged 17 points per game and 12 rebounds per game.

In a recent Roanoke College game program, Abernathy was featured as one of the team's promising young players.

While he suffered a series of injuries at the beginning of this season, he has come on strong in the latter part of the year, and the Roanoke coach commented in the program profile that Abernathy "possesses a fine shooting touch and a knack for scoring."

Abernathy, who graduated in the top ten percent of his class at ACHS, has continued his strong academic tendencies at Roanoke College, earning a 3.0 grade-point average in his first semester at Roanoke.

The Maroons enter this weekend's quarterfinal contest representing the Southeastern section of the U.S. If they win this weekend they will enter the NCAA Division III national finals the following weekend in New York.



SHANE ABERNATHY, shown above taking a shot while still a Raider, is on the Roanoke College team which has made it to the NCAA Division III Semifinals. Abernathy, who got off to a slow start this season because of injuries, is playing more and more as a freshman and shows great promise, according to the Roanoke coach.

MRS. ALMOND'S students at AES presented the play, "The Once and Future Frog." Many fairy tales we read tell of princes who have been put under spells and turned into frogs but, Prince Frederick had a special problem. He was a frog who was turned into a prince. The play shows how Frederick, "Croaker," once more became a frog. Players are Teresa Hurt as Princess Angela, Phillip Kershner as the King, Wendy Mayberry as the Queen, and Georgie Jones as Prince Frederick.

MRS. BONDURANT'S 3rd grade classroom had many famous characters visiting last Friday. The students in her class gave creative book reports on biographys they had read. The guest list included such dignitaries as: Pete Ross, Mark Twain, Evil Knievel, Abe Lincoln, Betsy Ross, Chris Everette Lloyd, Queen Elizabeth, Peggy Flemming, Florence Nightingale, Teddy Roosevelt, Dolly Parton, and many more. Helen Keller dropped by and gave part of her report in sign language. It turned out to be a very exciting and educatonal day at AES!
